

Seated (l. to r.)

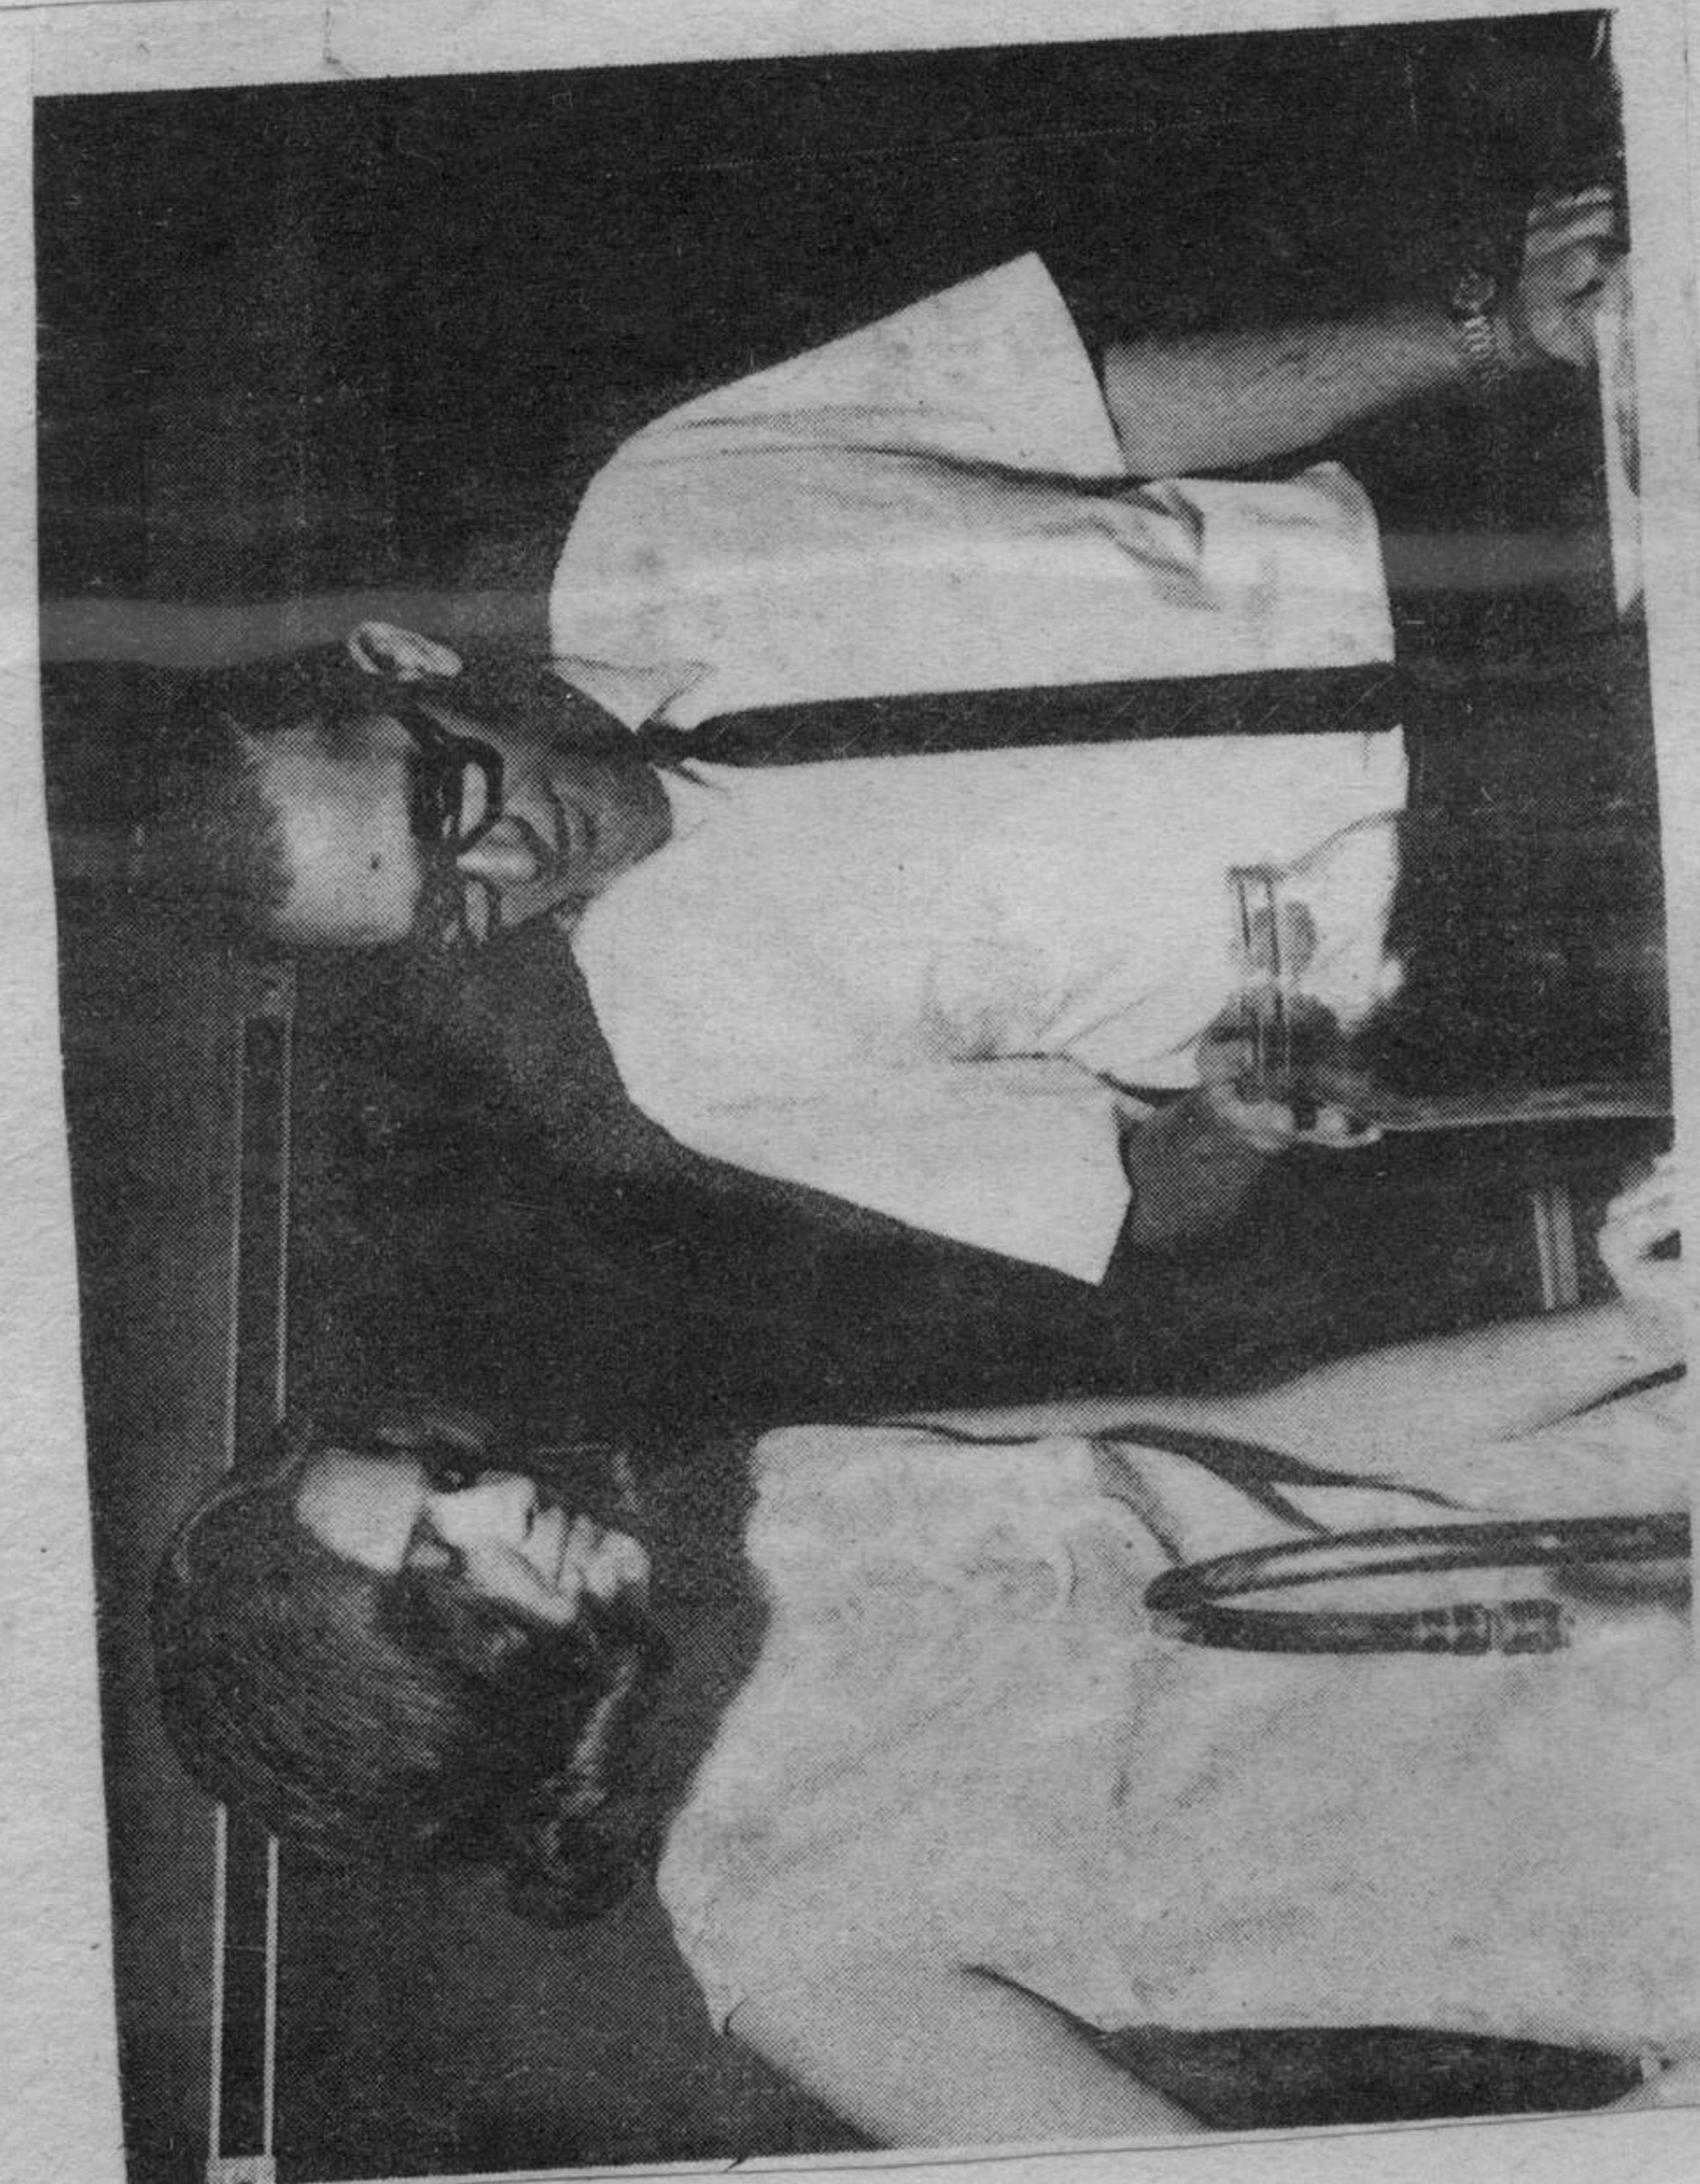

Here is the Farm Bureau's new Dairy Advisory Committee. Standing are M. L. Legg, Greenbrier County; Merrell Lilley, Marshall County; Chairman Lyle L. Austin, Mason County; and Paul Nay, Harrison County. Abner Hockensmith and Selman Wells, Wood County. They plan to meet again in November to continue work on the Special Milk program, and to take up other dairy problems.

MONTGOMERY FARM NEWS

VIRGINIA FARM NEWS

Major Harlen W. Kinnison (right) receives the Bronze Army Medal during ceremonies at Fort Riley, Kansas, June 12. He was given the award as executive officer of the 1st Battalion of the 24th Infantry. The award was given to Major Kinnison, a graduate of Hillsboro High School and West Virginia University, and Florence, the son of Mrs. Mattie Strobel, while serving in the Advisory Team 17 at Fort Riley's 70th Armor, a unit in Vietnam.

— DON'T WED THE BEWARM?

Once upon a time there were four men, who belonged to the same church. Their names were Joe Somebody, George A. Everybody, and Jack Everybody, Nobody. Everybody thought he would like to go to Sunday school but he figured Somebody would n't be friendly with Anybody so Nobody went. Everybody was asked to teach a Sunday school class, but surely Anybody would want to be a teacher, and at least Somebody would do it.

ing the class.
Whenever there is a job
be done in church, everybody agrees with Anybody that body should do it, but body does it.

Epitaph—These four men and went to be with the Lord
know who got the reward?
(Lake Wimpy Bull)

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Kinnison announce the birth of a son, weighing eight pounds, at Greenbrier Hospital, December 19, 1975. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hill, the paternal Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kinnison and grandmother, Mattie Strobel, Lewisham.

I AM THE FARMER

9

(l. to r.)
County;
County;
n County
er to con-
problems.
ARM NEWS

Army Major Harlen W. Kinnison (right) receives the Bronze Star Medal during ceremonies at Fort Riley, Kansas, June 12. He is executive officer of the 1st Battalion of the 24th Infantry Division's 70th Armor, at Fort Riley. The award was given for meritorious service while serving in the Advisory Team 17 advising a Vietnamese unit in Vietnam. Major Kinnison, a graduate of Hillsboro High School and West Virginia University, is the son of Mrs. Mattie Strobel, of Hillsboro and Florence, Ariz.

Wanda J. Wymer, Hillsboro High School honors student in biology, discusses ecology with Joseph Allamong, her instructor, during morning class session of West Virginia University's special ten-week study and work program the past summer for selected students from state high schools. This year's 23 participants spend rewarding afternoons in faculty supervised research in Medical Center, Agricultural Sciences or Main Campus laboratories. Like WVU summer school, the program ended August 20. Wanda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wymer, of Route 1, Hillsboro.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Kinnison announce the birth of a son, Clark Hill, weighing eight pounds, at Greenbrier Valley Hospital, December 19, 1975. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hill, Hillsboro, and the paternal grandparents are the late H. Guy Kinnison and grandmother, Mrs. Mattie Strobel, Lewisburg.

WHO RECEIVED THE REWARD?

Once upon a time there were four men, who belonged to the same church. Their names were Joe Somebody, George Anybody, Jack Everybody, and Sam Nobody.

Everybody thought he would like to go to Sunday school but he figured Somebody wouldn't be friendly with Anybody so Nobody went.

Everybody was asked to teach a Sunday school class, but he thought surely Anybody would want to be a teacher, and at least Somebody would do it, but Nobody finished up teaching the class.

Whenever there is a job to be done in church, Everybody agrees with Anybody that Somebody should do it, but Nobody does it.

Epitaph—These four men died and went to be with the Lord. Know who got the reward?— Nobody! (Lake Wire Bulletin) ternoon, December 30, 1972, in First Church at Marlinton, Miss. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sboro, became the bride of John M., son of Dr. and Mrs. John M. Marlinton.

MALLOW - ROSE

lynard Crawford performed the ceremony before the altar, decorated with red pompons, pine tips, with candelabra.

sections of wedding music were furnished by Frances Eskridge, organist.

ge by her father, the bride wore an A-line gown of organza and with touches of pink at the empire waistline. The gown featured a high neckline, and an attached chapel train. Seed pearls and bridal embroidery mantilla veil extended the train. The bride carried a bouquet of pink pompons and red miniatu- rish pink velveteen streamers and Miss Caroline Rose, sister of the bride, wore a floor-length gown of white with standing collar, empire waistline. Her colonial bouquet was made of carnations and holly with white velvet bows. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Mary Frank, and Miss Anne Mal- lington. Their dresses were of white with the maid of honor. Their bouquets were made of pink pompons and holly with pink velveteen streamers and bows.

of Marlinton, served as best man. The bride's brother, James Rose, brother of the bride, and his wife, Mrs. Carol Miller, of Charleston, cousin of the bride, also attended.

The maid of honor, Mrs. Carol Miller, wore a winter white dress with a lace-trimmed collar and carnations and holly. The bridesmaids wore a dress of champagne with a lace-trimmed collar and pale yellow roses.

The wedding reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the First Church during the ceremony. Assisting the bride were Mrs. Sue Keller, Mrs. Carol Miller, Mrs. Gerry Puffenbarger, Mrs. Carol Miller, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Carol Miller, aunt of the bride, at the reception.

After the wedding, the bride and groom took a trip to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, and then returned to Morgantown, West Virginia, where they are students at West Virginia University.

MALLOW - ROSE

Saturday afternoon, December 30, 1972, in United Methodist Church at Marlinton, Miss. Jeanne Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rose, of Hillsboro, became the bride of John Mallow, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. John M. Sr., of Marlinton.

Reverend Maynard Crawford performed the ring ceremony before the altar, decorated in arrangement of red pompons, pine tips, flanked with candelabra.

Appropriate selections of wedding music were made by Mrs. Frances Eskridge, organist.

In marriage by her father, the bride wore floor-length A-line gown of organza and lace with touches of pink at the em- sist. The gown featured a high neckline, long sleeves, and an attached chapel train. Headpiece of seed pearls and bridal ila lace-trimmed mantilla veil extended the length of the train. The bride carried a bouquet of pink pompons and red mini- carnations with pink velveteen streamers and of honor was Miss Caroline Rose, sister of the bride. She wore a floor-length gown of velvet, featuring standing collar, empire waist and puffed sleeves. Her colonial bouquet consisted of white pompons and holly with white velveteen streamers and bows. The bridesmaids were Debbie Stewart, of Frank, and Miss Anne Malster of the groom. Their dresses were of velvet to match the maid of honor. Their bouquets were of white pompons and holly with velveteen streamers and bows.

As Dunbrack, of Marlinton, served as best man. The ushers were James Rose, brother of the bride, and Robert Miller, of Charleston, cousin of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a winter white dress with corsage of red carnations and holly. The groom's mother wore a dress of champagne color and a corsage of pale yellow roses.

The reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony. Assisting in the reception were Mrs. Ruth Pritchard, Mrs. Sue Keller, Mrs. Forren, and Mrs. Gerry Puffenbarger. Mrs. Pennybacker, aunt of the bride, attended the guest book.

After a wedding trip to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, the couple returned to Morgantown, where they are both students at West Virginia University.

MALLOW - ROSE

On Saturday afternoon, December 30, 1972, in the United Methodist Church at Marlinton, Miss Lori Jeanne Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Rose, of Hillsboro, became the bride of John Monroe Mallow, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. John M. Mallow, Sr., of Marlinton.

The Reverend Maynard Crawford performed the double-ring ceremony before the altar, decorated with an arrangement of red pompons, pine tips, and holly, flanked with candelabra.

Appropriate selections of wedding music were provided by Mrs. Frances Eskridge, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length A-line gown of organza and embroidered lace with touches of pink at the empire waist. The gown featured a high neckline, Victorian sleeves, and an attached chapel train. From a headpiece of seed pearls and bridal illusion, a lace-trimmed mantilla veil extended over the length of the train. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of pink pompons and red miniature carnations with pink velveteen streamers and bows.

Maid of honor was Miss Caroline Rose, sister of the bride. She wore a floor-length gown of red velvet, featuring standing collar, empire waist and puffed sleeves. Her colonial bouquet was of white pompons and holly with white velveteen streamers and bows. The bridesmaids were Miss Debbie Stewart, of Frank, and Miss Anne Mallow, sister of the groom. Their dresses were of green velvet to match the maid of honor. Their colonial bouquets were of white pompons and holly with red velveteen streamers and bows.

Curtis Dunbrack, of Marlinton, served as best man. Ushers were James Rose, brother of the bride, and Robert Miller, of Charleston, cousin of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a winter white dress and a corsage of red carnations and holly. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of champagne chiffon and a corsage of pale yellow roses.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Ruth Pritchard, Mrs. Sue Keller, Mrs. Margaret Forren, and Mrs. Gerry Puffenbarger. Mrs. Nancy Pennybacker, aunt of the bride, attended the guest book.

After a wedding trip to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, the couple returned to Morgantown, where they are both students at West Virginia University.

MALLOW - ROSE

On Saturday afternoon, December 30, 1972, in the United Methodist Church at Marlinton, Miss Lori Jeanne Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Rose, of Hillsboro, became the bride of John Monroe Mallow, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. John M. Mallow, Sr., of Marlinton.

The Reverend Maynard Crawford performed the double-ring ceremony before the altar, decorated with an arrangement of red pompons, pine tips, and holly, flanked with candelabra.

Appropriate selections of wedding music were provided by Mrs. Frances Eskridge, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length A-line gown of organza and embroidered lace with touches of pink at the empire waist. The gown featured a high neckline, Victorian sleeves, and an attached chapel train. From a headpiece of seed pearls and bridal illusion, a lace-trimmed mantilla veil extended over the length of the train. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of pink pompons and red miniature carnations with pink velveteen streamers and bows.

Maid of honor was Miss Caroline Rose, sister of the bride. She wore a floor-length gown of red velvet, featuring standing collar, empire waist and puffed sleeves. Her colonial bouquet was of white pompons and holly with white velveteen streamers and bows. The bridesmaids were Miss Debbie Stewart, of Frank, and Miss Anne Mallow, sister of the groom. Their dresses were of green velvet to match the maid of honor. Their colonial bouquets were of white pompons and holly with red velveteen streamers and bows.

Curtis Dunbrack, of Marlinton, served as best man. Ushers were James Rose, brother of the bride, and Robert Miller, of Charleston, cousin of the groom.

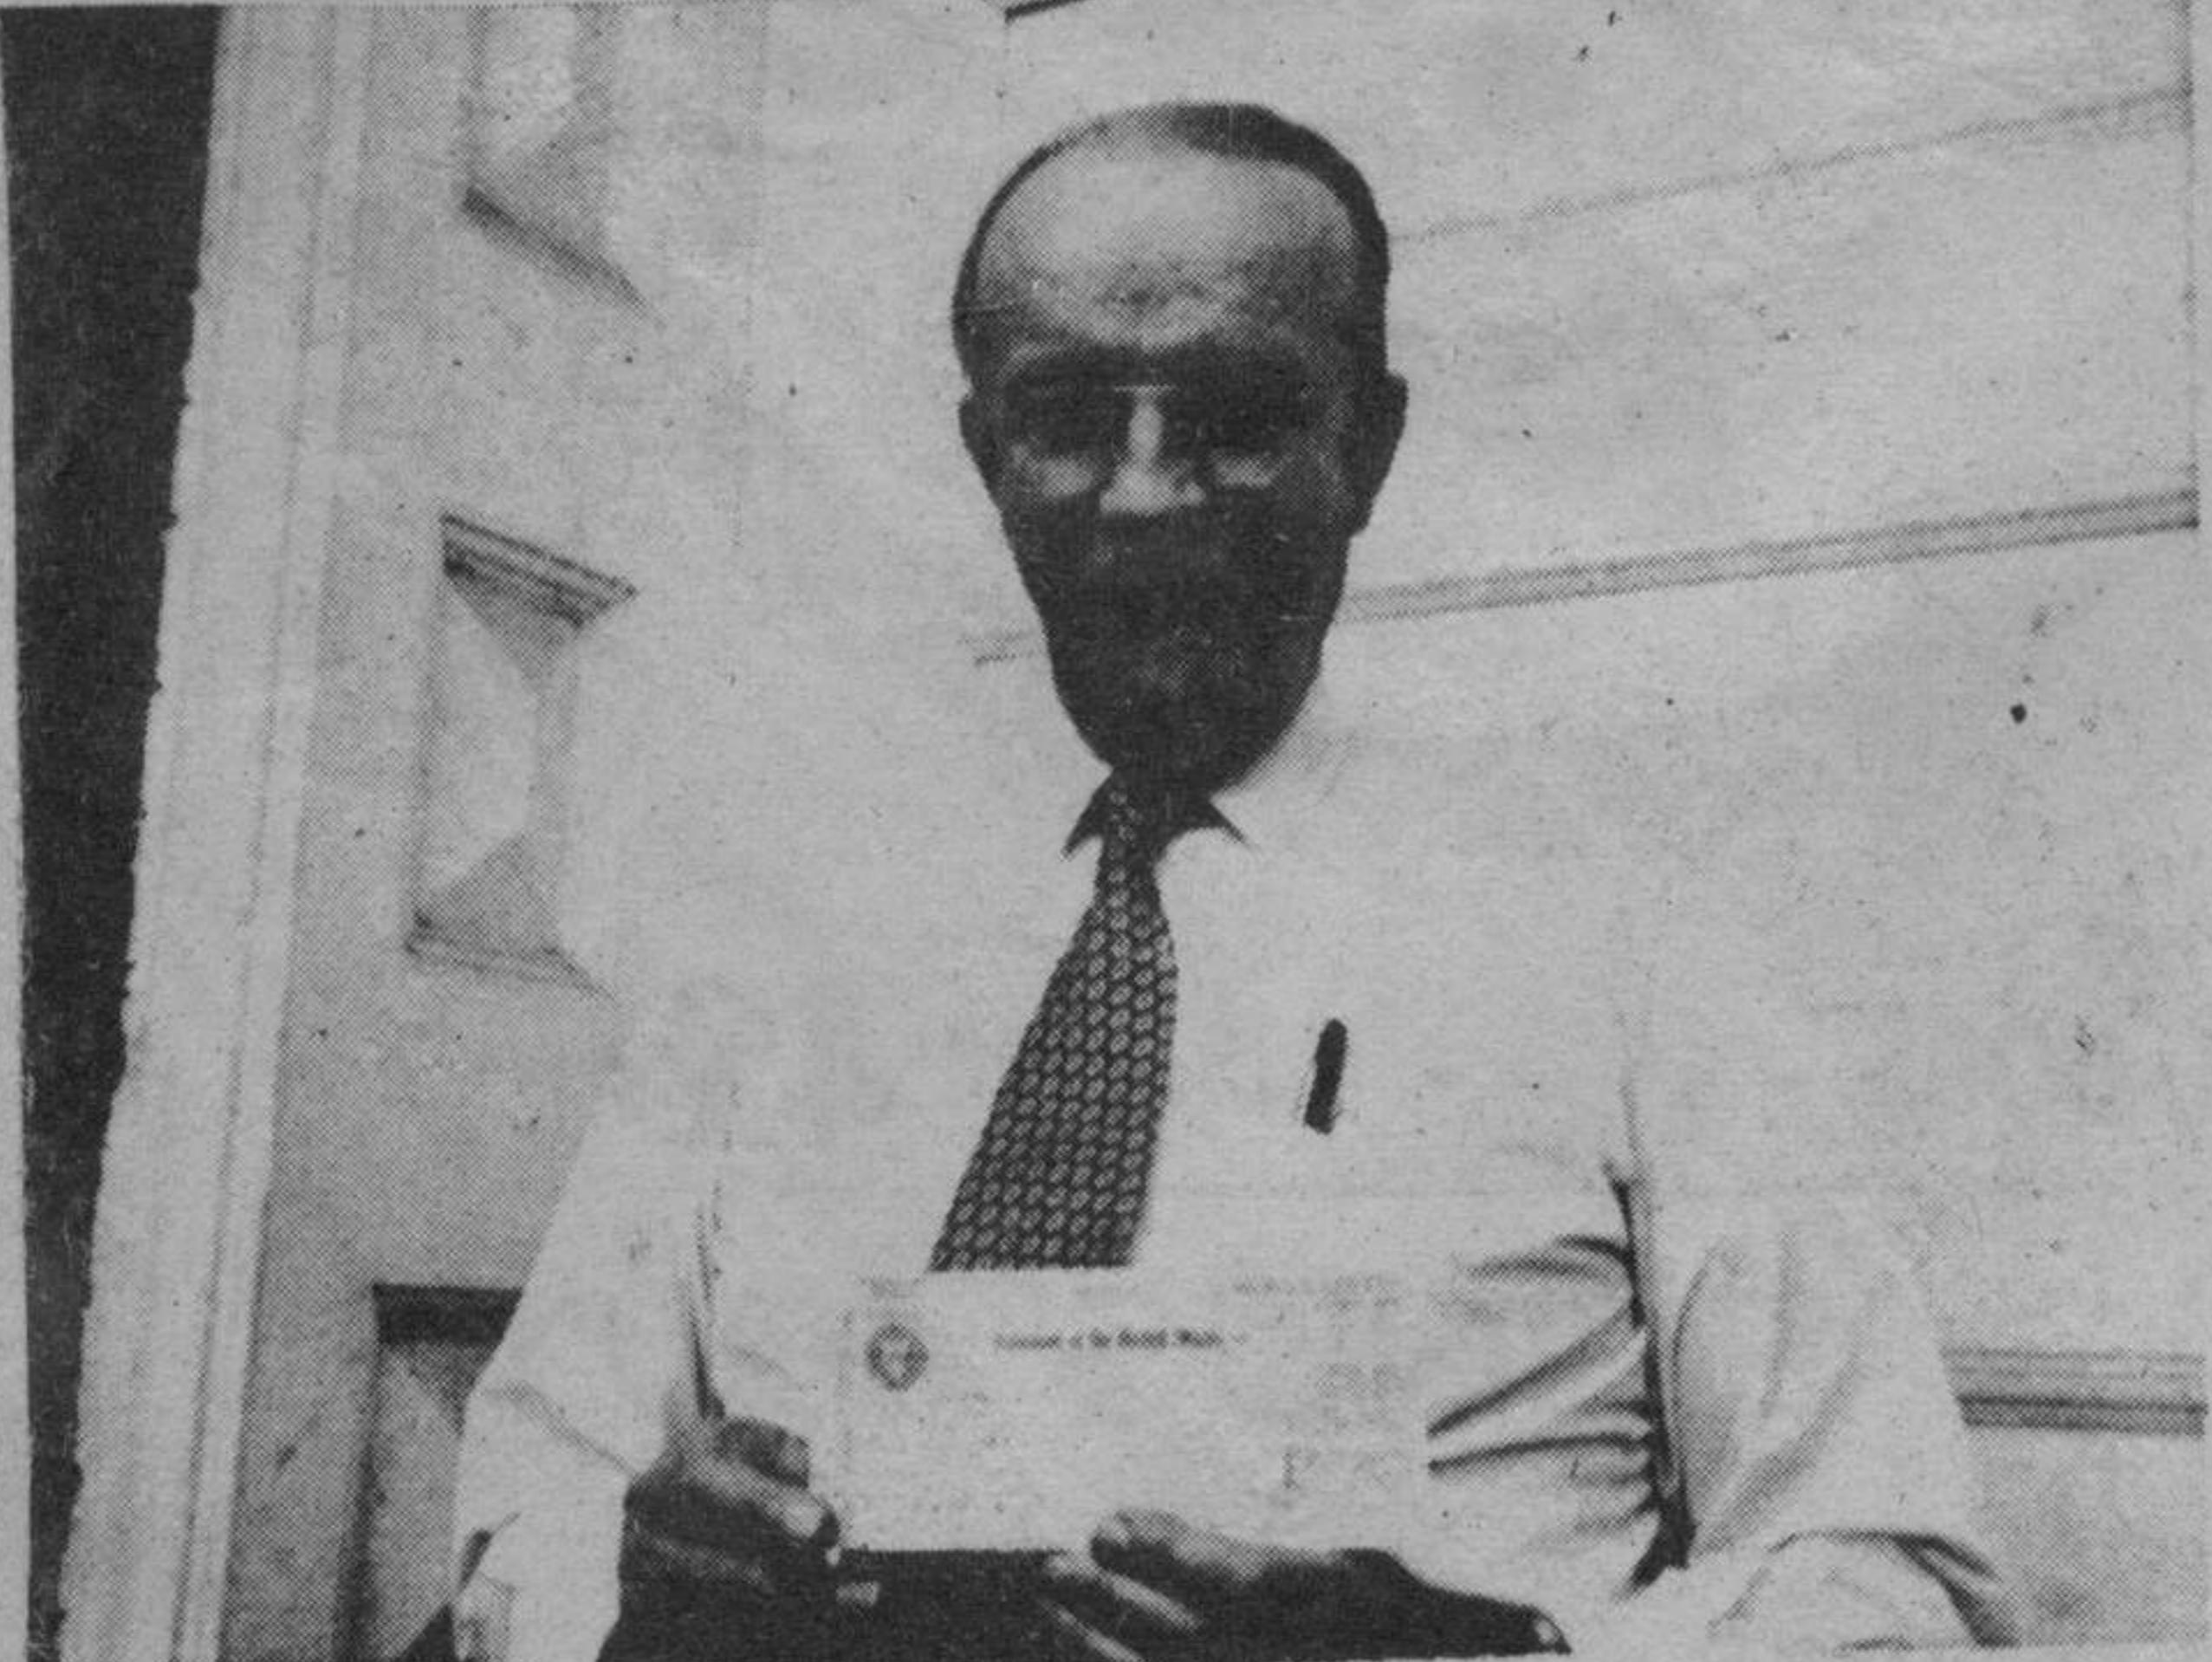

The bride's mother wore a winter white dress and a corsage of red carnations and holly. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of champagne chiffon and a corsage of pale yellow roses.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Ruth Pritchard, Mrs. Sue Keller, Mrs. Margaret Forren, and Mrs. Gerry Puffenbarger. Mrs. Nancy Pennybacker, aunt of the bride, attended the guest book.

After a wedding trip to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, the couple returned to Morgantown, where they are both students at West Virginia University.

20

1972

County Clerk Alfred McNeel holds a check for $118,428 from the United States Treasury, the first of the "revenue sharing" money. The entitlement period is for six months but it is presumed this is a year's share. The amount is over twice what was expected. A national newscaster said the Treasury Department was embarrassed over the differences between the estimated amounts and the final figures. Some cities and counties received much less than was expected. The program is supposed to cover a five-year period. The money may be spent only for certain things, which must be planned carefully, advertised in advance, and a published accounting be made.

David Corcoran, Executive Director of the Pearl Buck Birthplace Foundation, enthusiastically accepts a copy of the First National Bank in Marlinton, W. Va., by Mrs. Beulah Moore and other Life Members, the Foundation received a rare autographed copy of the book titled My Mother's House. Many copies of this book are in stock and interested in becoming Life Members are invited to join now while copies are available.

Marlinton Hospital. Marlinton, W. Va.

Marlinton Hospital before it burned in the late 20's.

LENA TOWNSEND

Mrs. Lena Townsend smiles Friday as she marks her 28 years of teaching. She taught the last day of school for the first teacher in the fourth grade at Western School, Mason.

Mrs. Townsend has spent her entire teaching career in Franklin County, chalking up seven years in the Mason school. Her first three years she taught at Kingwood and South Lebanon elementary schools.

For now she will devote her time to reading, sewing and growing flowers, she said. "But I think we'll sort of think that will be next year, we'll be moving to Florida," she added.

versity.

After moving to Ohio she earned her B.S. degree from Miami University.

Mrs. Townsend's first teaching job was at the State Teachers' College in Concord, Ohio. She attended Hillsboro. She attended Stampede, formerly of Lena, Illinois. Lena is a member of the Ohio Education Association, the Ohio Education Association Association, and was named "Outstanding Teacher at Western Row School" in 1972.

Mrs. Townsend is a member of the Ohio Education Association, the Ohio Education Association Association, and was named "Outstanding Teacher at Western Row School" in 1972. Mrs. Townsend was born in Thomasville, Georgia, son Robert in Mt. Orab and Helen Dye, lives in Loveland, very much." Their daughter, grandchildren, "that we enjoy nice staying home."

The couple live at 183 Mt. Vernon Dr. near Kenwood Road. They have three children and a son Townsend is a member of the First National Bank in Marlinton, represented by Mrs. Beulah Moore and William McCarty. As the First National Bank in Marlinton, represented by Mrs. Beulah Moore and William McCarty, other life members, the First National Bank received a rare autographed copy of Miss Buck's titled My Mother's House. There are still some touching reminiscences of the Stulting home entitled My Mother's House. There are still some copies of this book in stock and those people who like it, I'll miss school ever done. I feel I've spent my whole life at it. I'll miss school and the children, but it will be nice staying home."

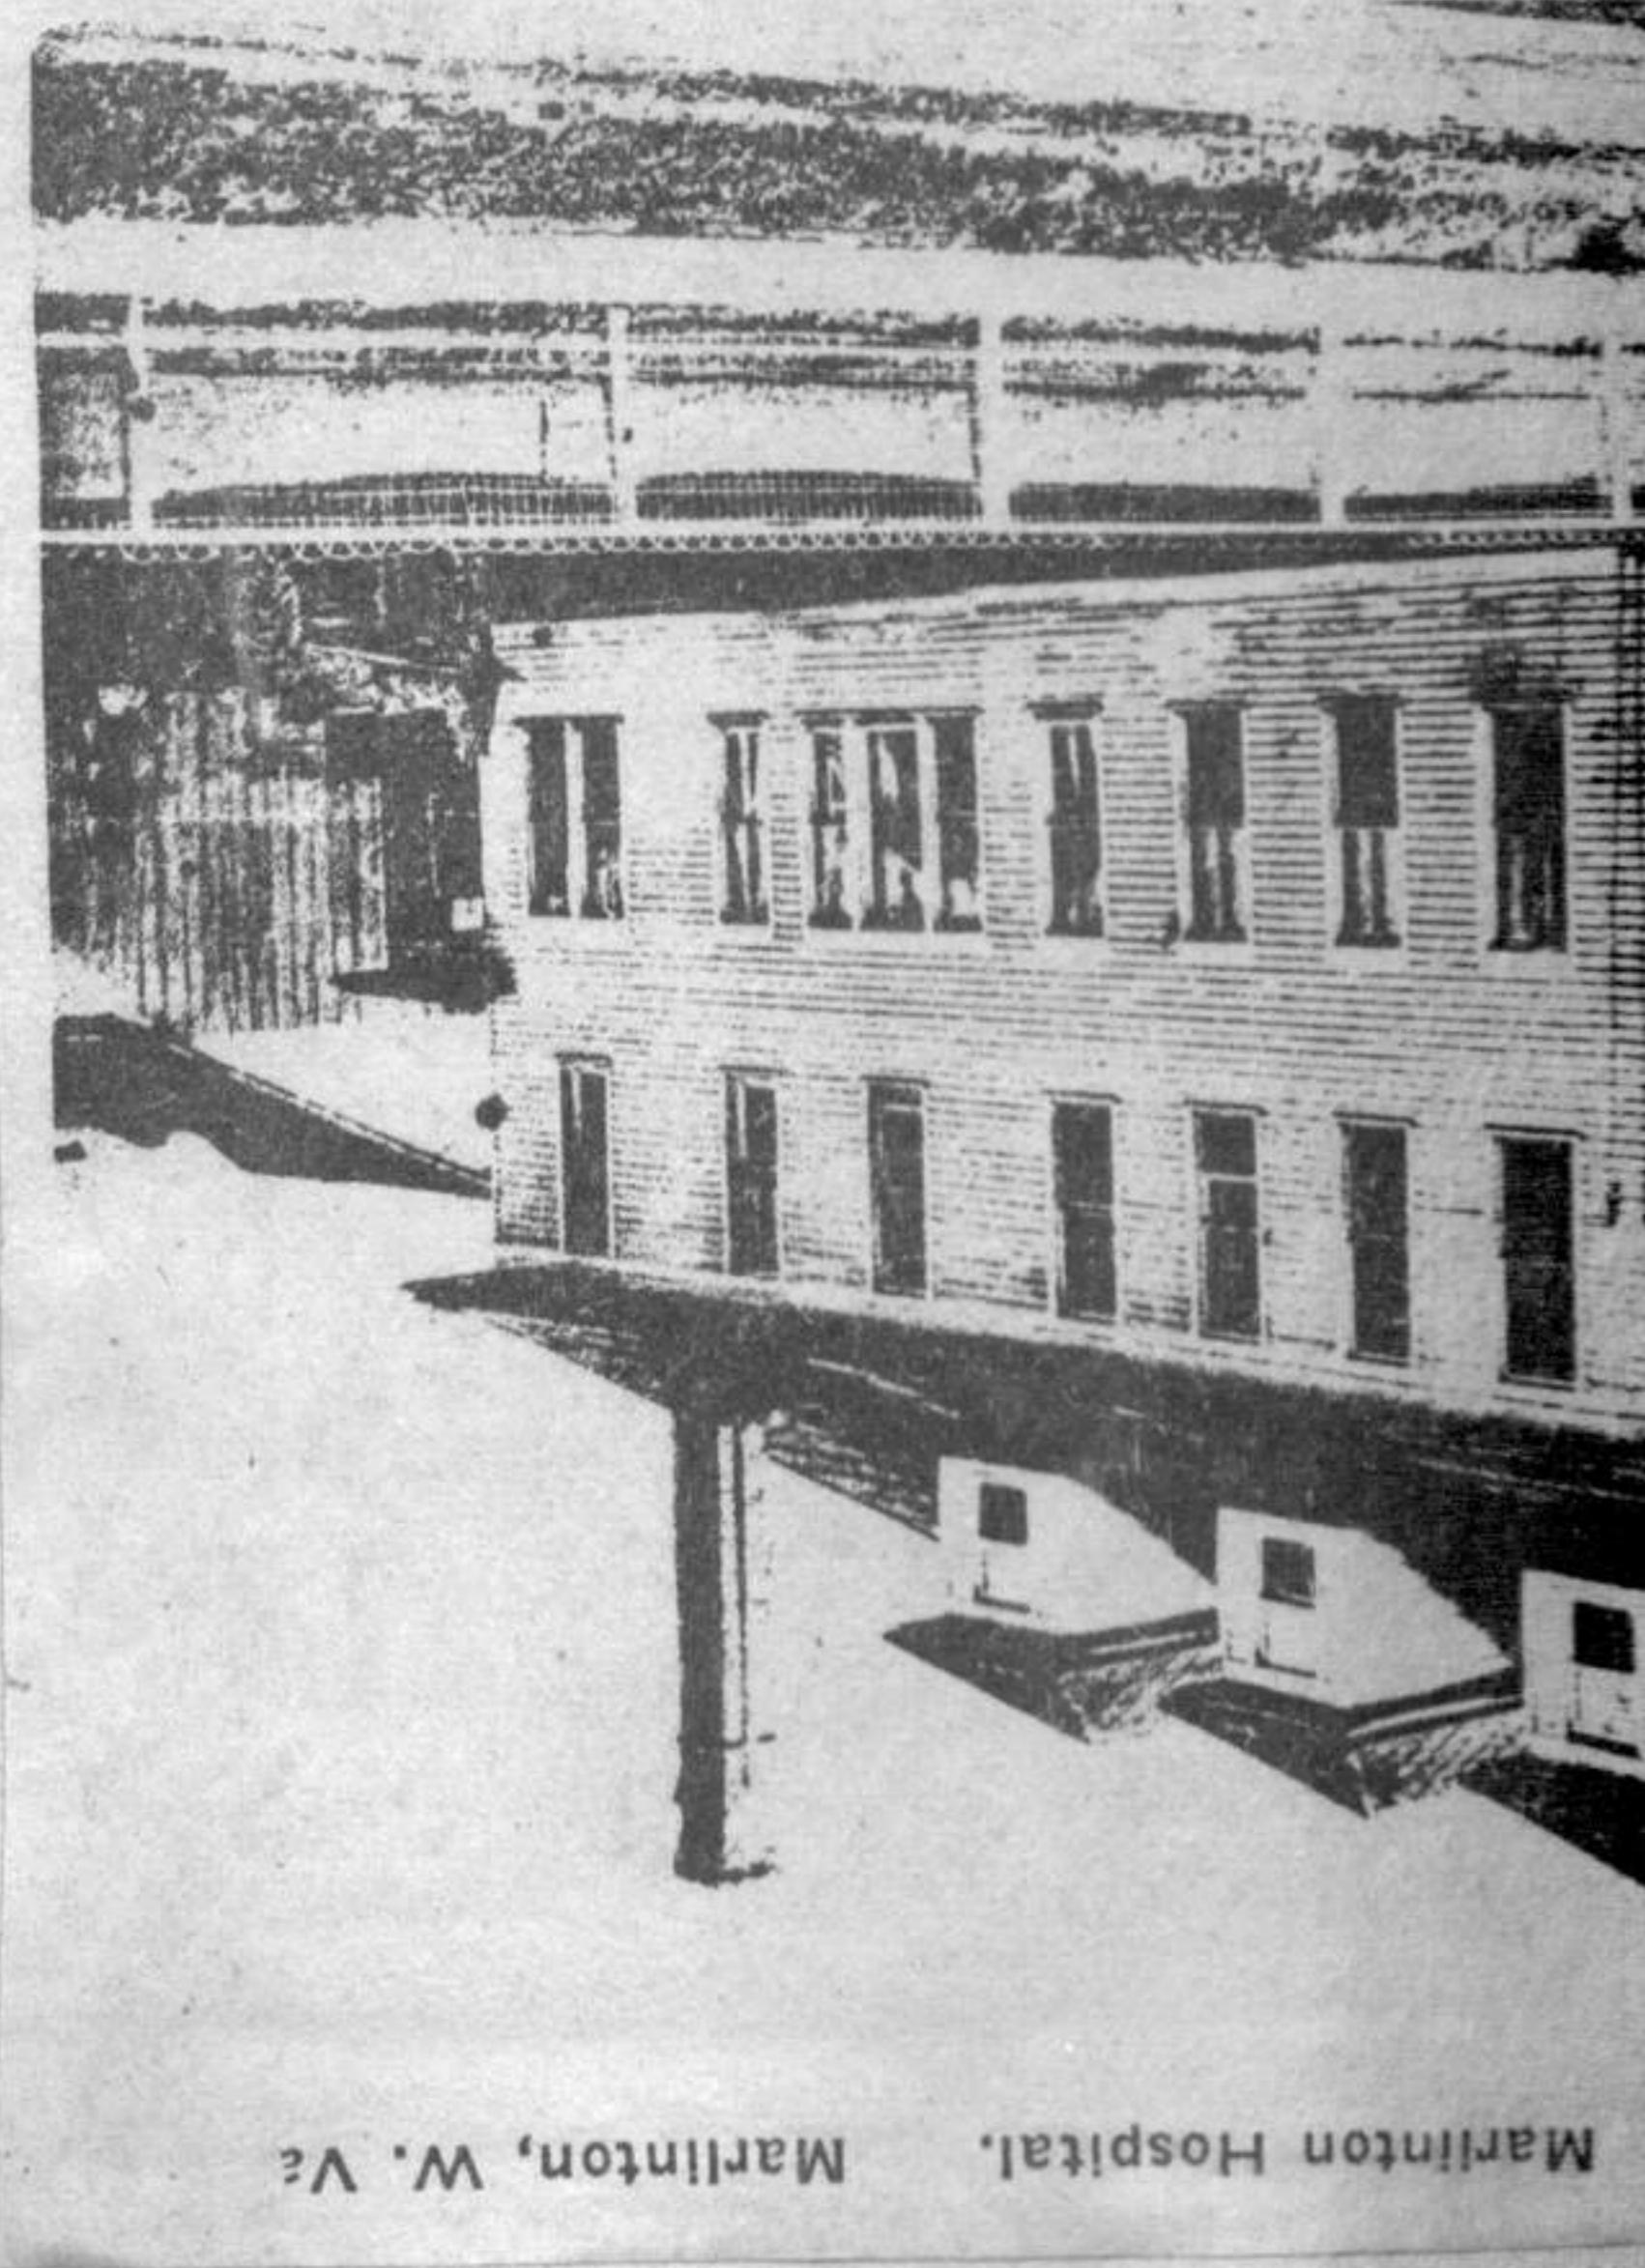

Mrs. Townsend has spent her entire teaching career in Warren County, chalkling up seven years in the Mason School. Her earlier years she taught at Kings Mills and South Lebanon Elementary and South Lebanon Elementary. For now she will devote more time to reading, sewing and her hobbies.

For now she will devote more time to reading, sewing and her hobbies.

It burned in the late 20's.

LENA TOWNSEND

Marlinton Hospital, Marlinton, W. Va.

1972

1972